cloudLibrary titles are moving!

Here's what you need to know:

Why is the library making this change?

All metro libraries are moving ebooks and eaudiobooks from cloudLibrary to a single, metro-wide collection in OverDrive: melsa.overdrive.com

When the transition is complete, you'll have access to more materials using the OverDrive or Libby apps.

Do I need a new account to use Libby?

No, you do not need to make a new account. You will need your Washington County Library card and PIN to sign into the Libby app or libbyapp.com.

What does this mean for my checkouts and holds?

Unfortunately, your checked out items and holds in cloudLibrary will not transition automatically. Once items move to the shared collection, you will not have access to any materials you've checked out or downloaded. You will also lose your place on holds lists and have to reserve items again. We're sorry for this inconvenience. We know that changes like these are frustrating, but the move will ultimately give you access to a larger selection of digital materials.

What should I do next to keep reading?

1. Write down the titles you have on hold or favorited in cloudLibrary (flip me over for a helpful worksheet!)
2. Download the Libby app to your device. If you use a Kindle Fire, download the OverDrive app.
3. Follow the prompts to find the "MELSA: Twin Cities Metro eLibrary" collection and sign in with your Washington County Library card.

Items I want to remember from cloudLibrary

Checkouts, holds, wishlists, and borrowing history won't transfer from cloudLibrary to Libby. Use this space to write down the titles you want to remember when you move to Libby with us.
